Postmaster Overshiner Under New Federal Liquor Law Turns Back Envelopes

BOOZE LITERATURE IS BARRED FROM DRY MAIL

Regulations Take a Smash at Advertising of Mother Colony Newspaper

That the new Federal law against the use of the United States mails to carry liquor literature into dry territory is being enforced was evidenced Saturday when Postmaster Charles D. Overshiner of Santa Ana refused to deliver a number of bills sent through the mails by the Orange County Wine Company of Anaheim.

Postmaster Overshiner has just received from the postmaster general a copy of the law, and with it is a page of instructions and a long list showing dry territory into which the kind of literature prohibited the use of the mails cannot be sent through the mails.

An interesting feature of the law and its effect in this county is that it has already knocked the Anaheim Plain Dealer out of some of its advertising. The Anaheim Herald, a daily, has not been carrying liquor advertising. The Plain Dealer, which had liquor ads week before last had none the last week, the postal law being the reason for the change. The law does not prohibit the delivery by mail of a paper carrying booze ads in wet territory. An Anaheim paper with booze ads could not use Anaheim rural routes or be delivered in any city of the county excepting in Anaheim and Seal Beach.

The Santa Ana postmaster construed the bills sent out by the Orange County Wine Company to be in violation of the new law. The judgment was passed upon the wording of the "return" printed in the upper left hand corner of the envelope, and upon his conclusion as to what was in the letter.

In the pamphlet received by the postmaster is printed in the list of dry territories all of the post offices in Orange county excepting Anaheim and Seal Beach.

Portions of the new law follow: That no letter, postal card, circular, newspaper, pamphlet, or publication of any kind containing any advertisement of spirituous, vinous, malted, fermented, or other intoxicating liquors of any kind, or containing a solicitation of an order or orders for said liquors, or any of them, shall be deposited in or carried by the mails of the United States, or be delivered by any postmaster or letter carrier, when addressed or directed to any person, firm, corporation, or association, or other addressee, at any place or point in any state or territory of the United States at which it is by the law in force in the state or territory at that time unlawful to advertise or solicit orders for such liquors, or any of them, respectively.

If the publisher of any newspaper or other publication or the agent of such publisher, or if any dealer in such liquors or his agent, shall knowingly deposit or cause to be deposited, or shall knowingly send or cause to be sent, anything to be conveyed or delivered by mail in violation of the provisions of this section, or shall knowingly deliver or cause to be delivered by mail anything herein forbidden to be carried by mail, shall be fined not more than $1000, or imprisoned not more than six months, or both; and for any subsequent offense shall be imprisoned not more than one year. Any person violating any provision of this section may be tried and punished, either in the district in which the unlawful matter or publication was mailed or to which it was carried by mail for delivery, according to direction thereon, or in which it was caused to be delivered by mail to the person to whom it was addressed.

YOUNG EMPEROR OF CHINA OUT,
U. S. INFORMED

Democracy Re-established As Manchu Ruler Is Forced To Abdicate

WASHINGTON, July 9.—A democracy has been re-established in China, according to State Department dispatches today.

After a week of skirmishing, during which Hsuan Tung, the young emperor, was set up at the head of a monarchy, official reports today indicated the Manchu emperor had been driven out and the former vice president, Keng Kue Chang, established as president of the new provisional government at Kanking.

BY RALPH H. TURNER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

TOKIO, July 9.—Germany's Chinese plot has apparently failed. General Chang Hsun, believed here to have been started in his attempt at institution of a monarchy in China by German money and German arms, left by agents of the kaiser, was reported today to be in dire straits in Peking. The youthful emperor, once deposed to make way for the republic and recently re-elevated to the throne by Chang Hsun, was reported again to have stepped down. Chang Hsun, himself, was understood to have resigned command of the army, an army now fast dwindling by desertions and under pressure from advancing republican forces.

The first battle of the republican campaign against the monarchy has been fought at Lang Fang, midway between Tien Tsin and Peking, according to advices received here today. Chang Hsun assumed the offensive and attacked the republican troops under Tuan Chi Jui. Practically all railways leading into Peking have been cut, whether by the monarchists or republicans is not known. The fact that the republicans have let it be known they are preparing to lay siege to Peking is interpreted here to mean that Chang Hsun sundered a defeat at Lang Fang and is retiring towards the capital. Tuan Chi Jui has issued a manifesto announcing the siege and declaring that the lives and property of persons of all nationalities in the city will be protected from molestation.

Li Yuan Hung, president of the republic, is expected to re-establish the republic in all its branches with headquarters at Shanghai.

The collapse of the monarchical regime was foreseen here. High Japanese authorities insisted from the first that it would not be endured and would receive neither internal favor nor external recognition.

Reports received today from Peking declared that Imperial Prince Polungpei, an anti-monarchist leader, had been assassinated. He was formerly a government delegate to the St. Louis exposition.

The republicans of China have started a formidable movement against Chang Hsun and his militarist leaders. Factions in the republican ranks, heretofore violently opposed, cast their differences aside and threw all their strength in opposition to the monarchical scheme of the Northern leaders. The whole south of China, it appeared today, is backing Tuan Chi Jui.

French In Sudden Offensive Retake Enemy Trenches On Front of Over Mile

PETROGRAD, July 9.—Russia today centered its drive on Lemberg, the Galician capital, with powerful offensive against Stanislaw.

The Slav forces took several villages.

General Kormilloff reported a complete success.

One hundred and thirty-one officers, 7,000 men and forty-eight guns were taken.

PARIS, July 9.—Suddenly assuming the offensive, the French troops swept forward last night between Bovettes Ridge and Chevregny, recapturing first line trenches over a front of a mile, according to today's official report.

Between Bovettes Ridge and Chevregny we counter attacked and in sharp fighting the French, with admirable ardor, retook the first line trenches on a mile front, regaining the major part of the territory lost in the enemy's powerful action Sunday between Pantheon and Froimont farm, the war office asserted.

"In the region south of Filain, artillery fire reached a violent intensity. Around Pantheon a strong enemy attack was brilliantly repulsed.

"Later details of the enemy's attack Sunday between Pantheon and Froimont farm show that twelve fresh battalions and three different divisions of picked troops participated against us. The attack was accompanied by liquid fire. Prisoners taken by us confirm the heavy losses we inflicted on the enemy.

Major General Sibert Enthusiastic As Army Prepares to Move to Front

A FRENCH PORT, July 9.—America's expeditionary army in France was entraining today for the trip to its new camp close to the battle front. Major General Sibert was as enthusiastic as his Sammies over the change, which will now bring the Americans close to where there is fighting.

The troops themselves celebrated as they clambered aboard the trains. Many of the American forces left slightly in advance of the troops themselves.

All the townspeople here turned out to cheer the Sammies' departure.

Yesterday there were ball games galore. Hundreds of French townspeople watched the games curiously from the field.

States That Have Answered Volunteer Call Harder Hit Than 'Slacker' States

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The first draft for America's army will be 687,000 men, it was today announced by the War Department. These will be singled out from the great registration rolls and will be just enough to fill the regular army and National Guard to full war strength and supply 500,000 for the first conscripted army.

States which have patriotically answered the call for volunteers will have less men to supply than "slacker states."

LEARN YOUR SERIAL NUMBER, U. S. EMPHASIZES

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Learn your serial number as assigned by the exemption board.

Don't confuse this number with that of your registration card.

Those are two points which army authorities emphasized today. Under President Wilson's proclamation the burden of learning whether a man is drafted is placed on the man himself.

At each registration precinct the lists of registrants are being posted as fast as the new numbers are assigned. The number assigned on this list will determine whether a man is drawn.

America's Export Fiat and Troubles In Germany Are Blows For Kaiser

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Dutch minister today protested the embargo act. He declares that Holland is starving for want of American grain. The embargo if enforced would impose grave suffering on Holland, he asserts.

BY CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 9.—America's embargo, plus internal German troubles, promise soon to hang two new millstones about Germany's neck.

The embargo, curtailing supplies to neutrals, lest they be re-exported to Germany, will be effective July 15. Thereafter no vital foodstuffs, munitions, fertilizers or metals can be sent abroad without licenses from the Department of Commerce.

Certain congressmen strongly favor having the President so screw down these limitations that the neutrals will have to align themselves with the United States unless they wish to starve.

Teutons Face Internal Strife
Meantime, according to press reports, Germany is confronted with troubles from within—a demand for parliamentary reform and a general political situation wherein new peace terms are apparently forthcoming.

The pressure from without and within seems likely to be such as to give the Teuton authorities some difficult months ahead.

Neutrals will suffer more unless they divert their tied-up shipping to aided uses and likewise permit an allied patrol of the Scandinavian coasts to bag submarines, now using territorial waters as a safe outlet to the sea. In issuing regulations on the embargo, President Wilson pointed out that the United States wants to heed neutral needs, but he just as emphatically showed the prime need of feeding the United States and its allies first and of shutting off any re-

Kaiser's Empire In Upheaval As Hollweg
Statement Is Due

BY JOHN H. GRANDENS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, via London, July 9.—Signs multiply that the political liberalization of Germany is impending. A week's important conferences preceding the reichstag session brought the situation to a head today. Tomorrow Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg is expected to make a formal statement and there is tense interest in political circles as to the attitude he may show on electoral reforms.

From the central wing to the socialists, all opinion in the reichstag is united that a reformed electoral system must be applied in Prussia, if Prussia fails to adopt such a plan of its own accord.

The government's promises of vast changes in electoral districts is considered only a small installment in payment for the large debt owing the people by the German government. There was a disposition indicated by all parties today to demand Prussian reform this fall.

According to Grandens's dispatch, the main objection now held by German reformists to the present electoral system is the preponderance of Prussia representation in the government.

In the reichstag the kingdom of Prussia has 236 deputies, six or eight times as many members as any other kingdom or principality. In the Bundesrath, Prussia has 17 members, nearly three times as many as any other section of Germany.

Upheaval in Germany Is Near Over Peace Objects

AMSTERDAM, July 9.—The people of Germany are about to force from the German autocratic ring a more satisfactory statement of Germany's peace aims, as well as a promise of sweeping electoral reforms, according to Berlin dispatches today.

Tomorrow's session of the reichstag is eagerly awaited. Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's political enemies have now apparently forced him into a position where he must make complete answer to the query whether Germany favors "no annexations and no indemnities." He was scheduled to speak Tuesday. Not only is the chancellor under fire from all parties in the reichstag over these peace aims, but the demand for greater liberalization in the government has now gained such headway that it is expected the chancellor will be forced to take cognizance of it.

Committees Cause Crisis
The crisis was precipitated by preliminary meeting of the reichstag committees. In one of these a centrist (government) party member vigorously assailed the chancellor and the government, demanding wholesale electoral reforms and announcement by Germany of peace terms of which enemy nations might find a common ground of negotiations. The German censorship forbade publication of this centrist party leader's speech, as well as certain brief remarks in the reichstag committee session made by the chancellor. It was known, however, that the centrist member was Mathias Erzberger.

What the whole German situation is likely to be threshed out very thoroughly in the reichstag was indicated in conferences which the kaiser and the chancellor had today in Berlin with Field Marshals von Hindenburg and Ludendorff. The two army commanders made a hurried trip from the front, arriving Saturday.

Berlin newspapers received here comment vigorously on the situation. "The meeting today means a critical period of the first magnitude for Germany," declared the Lokal Anzeiger. "It is not possible for the chancellor export of supplies to Germany through neutral nations. The Scandinavian countries, Holland and Switzerland, will be hard hit by the embargo.

The nature of the proclamation has strengthened belief here that the government will shut off all exports with an embargo for sixty days until an invoice of this country's supplies may be taken.

Commercial envoys from European neutrals and representatives of South American countries were active today in an effort to remove some of the teeth from the threatened embargo.

Eventualities Considered
Eventualities which might follow this government's drastic action have been considered duly. It is realized that if the war endures long, new faces may appear on one side or the other of the great world struggle forced there by the pressure of threatened starvation.

But military men insist that no chances must be taken with supplies of this nation and her allies, regardless of what neutrals think.

CENSORS

Newspapermen Are Prevented From Visiting Scene; Shock Felt Far

VALLEJO, Cal., July 9.—Six were killed and thirty-one injured, four seriously, in the Mare Island powder explosion. One whole family was wiped out, a man, his wife and two daughters. It is not known how the explosion occurred, but authorities are seeking a man who offered a Vallejo dealer $50 for a second-hand marine's uniform. Damage at the island is estimated between $75,000 and $100,000. The damage in Vallejo is estimated at $10,000.

VALLEJO, Cal., July 9.—Eight persons are missing and are believed to have been killed in the powder magazine explosion. Thus far no details are official. Newspapermen are barred off the island.

VALLEJO, July 9.—The black powder magazines, at the south end of Mare Island Navy Yard, blew up shortly before 8 o'clock this morning and it is reported that lives have been lost. Workmen returning to Vallejo, across the straits from the yard, declare that nearly all the houses used as residences by workmen and officers in the immediate vicinity of the magazine were destroyed or badly shattered. It is in these that it is feared casualties have occurred.

Ambulances have been going back and forth from the main part of the navy yard to the scene of the explosion.

It is impossible to get details because of the strict censorship established by the Navy Department at the beginning of the hostilities with Germany and which is still in effect.

One of the workmen, returning to Vallejo, declared his belief that all the houses at the scene had been "blown to pieces."

So terrific was the blast that most of the houses in South Vallejo, across the strait, facing the part of the yard where the magazine was located, were badly damaged. Most of them had their fronts blown in and several were unroofed. The roof of the roundhouse at that point was blown in. Chimneys in both Vallejo and South Vallejo toppled and fell under the blast.

In Vallejo proper thousands of dollars' worth of plate glass windows on Georgia street, the main thoroughfare, were shattered and much other damage was done.

Half an hour after the blast it was impossible to get details of the accident, but it was reported that the black powder magazine had blown up. The magazine is located at the extreme south end of the navy yard.

junction point of the French and British armies, but it is somewhere around St. Quentin and LaFere. The most southerly point mentioned in British official statements as having been fought over by Field Marshal Haig's forces is Fayet, about one mile north of St. Quentin.

Savy, not more than two miles further south around St. Quentin, has frequently been mentioned in the French War Office statements. It was captured by French troops early in April, and presumably is occupied by them now.

Important Key-Point

St. Quentin is an important key-point in the Douai-Cambrai-LaFere line of the German defense on the western front. The British and French offensive of March and April brought the allied forces to within a mile of the city. It was at the time of the offensive, apparently one of the main objectives of the drive by which the French and British followed up Hindenburg's famous "strategic retreat." Then, when the city was within actual sight of the allied troops, a weakness in the German defense developed elsewhere along the Franco-British front caused a change in plans, and the drive on St. Quentin was temporarily held up pending blows struck at the weaker spots.

As far as official statements for the past three months have shown, the allied line in this particular sector now runs something like this:

Allied Line

From Gonnelle, to Villers Guislain, to Ephe, to Ronssoy, Hargicourt, Villers, Le Vaugeois, Pontre, Misery, Bresson, le Petit, Fayet, Selency, Savy, Channy, Coucy le Chateau, Landricourt. All these towns are held by the French and British troops.

Suppose that this is the section picked for the American expeditionary army, it seems reasonable to presume there will soon be another drive at the basic city of St. Quentin carried out by the Americans.

St. Quentin and the city of LaFere, the latter located approximately 12 miles south, are the foundations on which Hindenburg built his famous "line." The German front in this particular section swings in a great arc from St. Quentin to La Fere, below Laon and then sharply upward again along the front where the French have recently won their wonderful success in the Aisne drive, to Rheims.

From this description, it will be seen that penetration of the German lines anywhere along this arc not only would menace the German grip on all of Flanders and Belgium to the north, but likewise would give opportunity for a tremendous flanking movement on the German lines to the south.

Bloody Sector

For this reason some of the fiercest fighting of the war has made the St. Quentin sector bloody ground on the western front. Directly ahead of the city lies some of the most terribly ravished ground of all that which the Germans relinquished in their "strategic retreat." Dispatches received in April and May from William Philip Simms and Henry Wood, the United Press staff correspondents, told vividly of the destruction wreaked upon the villages of Varnand, Ham, St. Simon, Savy and others in the path of this retreating horde.

By the time American troops arrive there—if the Washington reports are accurate—they will, however, find this wasted land all rebuilt. New roads have been constructed and the great jagged holes left by shells smoothed over in part at least.

The St. Quentin sector is ideally located for the "American front." Two big trunk lines of railways will give full access to it, the land is gently level and drained by the Somme River. Beyond St. Quentin the land held by the Germans becomes more hilly.

ANAHEIM, July 9.—The new street sweeper has arrived and is now at the city powerhouse being put in shape for operation today. The demonstrator will be here the first of the week to show how it is run and prove its many first-class possibilities.

The plan for sweeping has not been announced but it is understood that a start will be made about 5 o'clock each evening and that it will take eight hours to complete the work.

directly across the straits from South Vallejo. More than 100 men have been employed there.

Meager advices from across the straits indicate that several buildings were destroyed and one building burned down, but these reports cannot be confirmed. Since the declaration of war with Germany, all entrances to the navy yard have been carefully guarded and newspaper men have not been admitted except by special permits, which have been sparingly issued.

A few minutes after the explosion, all the naval officers at Mare Island, about 1000 marines and other recruits, were hurried to the scene to fight the fire which was expected to result.

The explosion was the most terrific heard hereabouts in years.

Several thousand dollars' damage was done in Vallejo, mostly in windows.

The blast was heard as far away as Sacramento, where buildings were rocked and dishes shaken off shelves. It was also felt in Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley.

day at $2.07, September wheat was down one cent at $1.92.

The government crop report, due after the close of the grain markets this afternoon, was expected to show a bullish condition for July wheat (the winter future) and the opposite for September (the spring future). The report was expected to show a combined production of spring and winter wheat of 75,000,000 bushels—275,000,000 spring and 400,000,000 winter—compared with 656,000,000 bushels predicted last month and 649,000,000 harvested last year.

Comment on the effect of President Wilson's embargo on the leading Chicago grain houses varied.

J. Herbert Ware, of Ware & Leland, said:

"There may be some temporary effect on the market, but this will be influenced by supply and demand. A slight break may come, but the market will readily adjust itself under government handling on the basis of supply and demand."

Lambert Brothers made this comment:

"We look for lower prices in view of the statement from Herbert C. Hoover that exports in corn and fodder are to be limited."

"The tendency of prices in oats we expect will be lower."

"There is now no trading in wheat futures, commission houses being restricted to cleaning up old contracts and trading only when actual delivery can be made."

Happiness does not consist in things so much as in thoughts.

Suit to quiet title to land in the north end of the county has been brought by John Bennett against Sophie L. Hewett, administratrix. Leonard Evans is attorney for the plaintiff.

Will Contest On

Judge West and a jury today are taking evidence in the contest that has been instituted in an attempt to set aside the codicil of the will of Daniel Halladay, pioneer banker of Santa Ana, who died a year ago. Mrs. Earl Green Ferguson and her brother, Floyd Green, are the contestants. Under the original will they would receive $10,000 or $12,000. The codicil gave them $500 each. The contestants declare Daniel Halladay made the change in his will on the misinformation that the father of the two contestants was worth as much as Halladay.

On the jury trying the case are J. P. Weinschenck, Oscar Bunyard, G. A. Shoemaker, R. E. Beswick, M. A. Clever, C. C. Youngs, W. H. McCord, J. A. Evans, George Walton, Frank J. Adams and M. I. McCarty, Attorney.

E. E. Keech, representing the heirs who hold for keeping the codicil intact, was the first witness. He testified that the codicil was drawn up at Daniel Halladay's own request, and exactly in accordance with his instructions.

Attorney Hammond for the contestants testified that the father of the contestants left an estate appraised at $74,000, heavily encumbered.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT PRELIMINARY IS SET, DELINQUENCY CHARGE

Arlo W. Rowe, who is said to have used the name of F. T. Willett, has been arrested on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. His preliminary examination was set by Justice Cox for July 16.

Soto, charged with attempting to kill Ben Dominguez at El Modena, was placed in jail here yesterday by Under Sheriff Linn. Soto was arrested at El Modena by the city marshal and constable of that place. Soto admits that he stabbed Dominguez, but says he had to do it to protect himself.

FARNSWORTH HEAD OF O. C. T. AND S. BANK

Ed Farnsworth has been elevated to president of the Orange County Trust & Savings Bank by action of the directors, and following the resignation of E. G. Holmes as president. Holmes will retain his interests in the bank, and tendered his resignation in shaping his plans to retire from active business life.

C. D. Holmes, a nephew, was elected to succeed him as a member of the directorate.

The selection of Farnsworth to head this rapidly growing financial institution will meet with the popular approval of all stockholders, as he has been active in the management of the affairs of the concern since the death of Henry T. Rutherford and prior to that time rendered valuable service.

Farnsworth is a product of the ranch. For many years he was engaged in farming on an extensive scale near Santa Ana, and the same energy that won him success in his pursuit has characterized his banking activities. He has been appraiser for the bank and represents the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company in this district as local appraiser.

Cashier A. O. Simmons and his wife have been called to Nortonville, Kan., by the serious illness of the former's father.

Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, of Detroit, issued an order to the 870 Methodist Episcopal preachers in the Detroit district to "display the Stars and Stripes in every Methodist Church for the duration of the war."

THE RUSSIANS ARE FIGHTING

The Russians are fighting.
This fact is one to send a mighty thrill around the world.

Were the United States still neutral,
the news that the Muscovites have resumed their onslaughts against the Germans would be sufficient, in view of the forced abdication of the Czar in March and the subsequent endeavors of Berlin to bring about a separate peace with Petrograd, to cause the heart of every true American to beat faster. But, now that the United States is in, straining every ounce of its power in the struggle to make democracy safe in the world, the dispatches detailing the valiant efforts of the free Russians have a tremendous and inspiring significance.

It is hard for us in Orange county and Southern California to realize the colossal import of the new Russian operations. But it should not be hard to realize. Just a little sober thought, just a little weighing of the scales,
with autocracy on one side and democracy on the other, is all that is needed to awaken us to a consciousness of what the world war really means.

It is a sad thing that, despite the crushing of Belgium, of Northern France, of Serbia; despite the sinking of the Lusitania; despite the killing of hundreds of Americans and the ruthless destruction of millions of dollars' worth of American shipping, and despite hundreds of indiscriminate and wanton violations of international right and justice by the Germans, there still should be some in the United States who have the temerity to ask that specious question, "What are we fighting for?" If, in these unparalleled examples of unleashed autocracy,
there are not found incontrovertible answers to that question, then the spectacle of Russia, after having shaken loose the shackles of the most grinding autocracy the world has ever known, now offering its new-found blood of liberty on the altar of right,
should be far and away enough reply,
or those who ask are indeed beyond the pale, indeed so far sunken in the pitiful depths of ignorance as to make it more than doubtful whether they have not forfeited their rights to franchise as free citizens of the world.

The Russians are fighting. It is a sublime fact. Every foot of ground gained by Brussiloff and his indomitable legions means a foot gained for America, for freedom, for the right of people to govern themselves. Every step advanced by the self-liberated Slavs means just so much more security for every American, just so much more security for every man, woman and child in every State in the United States. The new Russian offensive concerns you, Santa Anans, concerns
you irrevocably.

If, after having found liberty, the Russians had succumbed to the blandishments of Berlin, it would have been identical to the spectacle of the United States allowing the British to win the war of 1812, after having shaken off the yoke of King George in the Revolution.

The Russians are fighting. If there is still apathy in America, then that fact should be sufficient to galvanize
every doubter into inflexible, dauntless, patriotic action.

RESTORE CHILDREN

"No indemnities?" asked President
Butler of Columbia University, at a dinner given to the Italian diplomatic mission. "Certainly not!" he answered.
"No annexations?" And again he answered, "Certainly not!"

And then, as the guests of honor stirred uneasily in their chairs:
"But restoration, restitution and a return home of stolen and scattered children."

It was a rarely felicitous way of putting it. Europe is full of "stolen and scattered children," the children of nations and races. The world is full of them. Children must be returned. Otherwise there can be no justice among nations and no certainty of peace in the world.

Thinkers, educators and orators for years have proclaimed that the home is the foundation of American liberty and American institutions. After the war is over, with new ideals aroused and new things to work for and new institutions to establish European countries are going to cry out for the re-establishment of as many homes as possible. Millions of homes cannot be re-established, for war will have taken father or mother or both, sons and daughters, but insofar as possible children must be put back where they belong, so that they may be properly

With Malice Toward None

By Henry James

Fair Division

Some comment on the subject of Non Resistance has evoked a pleasant letter from an advocate of that manifestly impossible theory. In accord with her beliefs, she withholds all censure, closing the message with the cheering assurance, "I have no enemies. I love you all."

Affection is a tribute not to be despised and as the offering seems to be inclusive of the lot of us, I revel in my share.

But alas that the same mail should bring from elsewhere a missive containing the line (led up to by nicely devised gradations of wrath): "You sure are some skunk."

Well, counting the good with the bad that mail brought, it was a fifty-fifty split, anyhow.

Suffragists in Jail
A regrettable circumstance attending the jailing of a mess of suffragists
in Washington is that they all deserved what they got, and then some.

They were guilty of foolishness distinctly hurtful to the cause they so badly represent; they were guilty of an exhibition of poor manners, justly subjecting them to correction. Worst of all they were guilty of formulating sentiments that in this time of stress bordered on treason.

For their own good I hope their next sentence will be as many months
as they received days for their first offense.

Being Dead
Col. O. H. Payne accumulated $90-
000,000 and then died.
It is an interesting although melancholy fact that after this process
the gentleman was exactly as dead as though he never had accumulated 30 cents.

Sabotage
Members of the I. W. W. are said to have committed sabotage in the northwestern orchards by thrusting their dirty thumbnails through the skins of apples they were paid to pack.

This country has more than one kind of an enemy, but knows how to treat the kaiser. The I. W. W. and his unmanicured nails constitute a more difficult problem.

A Slogan
Some editors are saying "America
First."
Subjecting to analysis this slogan,
as they utter it, one finds the sentiment much akin to the detestable
"Deutschland uber alles."

To strive to make "America first"

through a policy of utter selfishness is not likely to make it anything in particular but a friendless nation.
The world is a community and any people unwilling to get in and do its share for the common good would be destined in the end to stand alone; if it stands at all.

Taking a Tumble
It is said that a German officer who fell 13,000 feet with a Zeppelin survived the experience.
He must have struck on his conse-
science.

Ex-Senator Clark is quoted as having said that rather than recognize a union he will flood his mines and quit.
"Oh, come now, Mr. Clark, don't you realize that your government may need copper? It might view such conduct on your part as unfriendly, and even undertake to run the mines itself."

The Naive Delusion
From time to time there is evidence that when a young woman falls in love with a married man she feels that it becomes her right to remove the incumbent wife, using any violence that may be necessary.

In this respect young women should be very careful. Only the best looking among them can get away with it.

Brisbane's Buy
Arthur Brisbane has purchased the Washington Times, a heretofore useless paper owned by Frank Munsey.
There will be much curiosity to observe whether the new owner is an owner in fact, or the representative of his employer. Brisbane was once a good newspaper man, and perhaps could be yet if permitted to work without being handcuffed.

Enterprise
Visalia tells of an enterprising woman who has been married six times,
and never a divorce nor a death
among her husbands.

It is gathered from the tenor of the dispatch that the community thinks the lady too informal.

Regrets
Personally I was sorry to hear of the illness of Von Tirpitz.
The idea of that man being permitted to die of a respectable ailment, while so in need of hanging, is distressing.

MEXICAN DROPS SACK
OF BRAN AND SCOOTS

A sack of bran stolen somewhere in the vicinity of the woolen mills is now at the mills awaiting owner.
A Mexican was seen early this morning to pass the mills with the sack on his shoulder. He evidently got scared, for he dropped the sack and scooted away as fast as he could run. Parties who saw his actions informed the police office at 5 this morning.

DOPE FIEND ENTERS
OFFICE OF DR. DRYER

Dr. J. L. Dryer's office was entered Saturday afternoon between 4:30 and 6 o'clock by a thief looking for morphine. Nothing was stolen but there was evidence that the man had searched the medicine case for morphine.

SPORTS

By H. C. Hamilton

NEW YORK, July 9.—Fred Fulton recently got through winning another referee's decision over Charley Wei-nert, the alleged heavyweight from New Jersey, and this was the signal for Harry Pollok to turn loose on the poor fans of New York state a ream or so of statements concerning the shortcomings of Fulton.

Fulton won his fight in the second round of a scheduled ten round go-when the referee stopped the bout
after continually warning Weinert against fouling. At the very start of the melee Weinert sank his fists low into Fulton's abdomen. He was warned repeatedly, yet he finally lost his bout just for that reason.

Weinert can't beat Fulton. He can't make even a half-way interesting match for the big fellow. Fulton simply outclasses the Jersey scrapper.

Harry Pollok's cries have been too
old to be taken seriously by anyone.
He never has failed to have an all-ready when one of his stable took a beating. His antics after Freddie Welsh was deprived of his title by Benny Leonard were in keeping with this statement, when he claimed Freddie had been unfairly decided against.

Anyone who saw Fulton and Wei-nert when they came together in New York last winter while Fulton was going so well could not help but feel Weinert was in for a bad beating when it was announced Buffalo had arranged for another meeting between them. When they tangled in Madison Square Garden under the direction of the late Grant Hugh Brown, Fulton was much better, so much the harder puncher there was nothing to the bout but a joke and a feeling of pity. Weinert was punched off his feet.

That's exactly what will happen if they come together again. Weinert as a scrapper isn't even to be considered in the same breath with Fulton.

AMERICA'S BOARD
OF WAR DIRECTORS

DR. FRANKLIN MARTIN
Dr. Franklin Martin, of Chicago, is chairman of the Committee on Medicine and Surgery of the Council of National Defense, which is preparing to fight the battle with death which will come for many a young American after the battle with the Germans.

Dr. Martin looks the part of an eminent surgeon—a strong, decisive face, clean shaven, with a chip-of-granite profile, a thick crown of white hair, and the cutaway costume traditional in the part. He has been up to his eyes in work from morning until midnight in the work of enrolling the surgeons and physicians of the nation, and of listing standard medical supplies, not to mention standardizing all others and mobilizing the medical and surgical system of the United States for its part in the fight.

Among the American members of

TODAY'S WAR RECIPE

Meat Pie

Here is an appetizing way to use that meat left from yesterday's roast, Madam Housewife.

Cut meat into fairly small pieces.
Stew in saucepan with a little water,
left-over gravy or soup, salt to taste,
and such seasoning and vegetables as onions and celery if desired. Thicken liquid with flour. Line baking dish with biscuit dough, pour in the meat filling, cover with biscuit dough and bake in a medium oven.

If the quantity of meat is small, a little macaroni or diced potato may be added.

Such pies to be at their best should be well seasoned.

LATIN HOLDS DRAFT
CARD MARITAL PERMIT

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—Bastion Missna, handsome young Italian, appeared with his pretty bride-to-be, Frances Avena, before Justice of the Peace O'Brien, requesting the kind offices of the judge to complete the work of Cupid.

"Have you your license?" asked the justice.

"Sure," replied Missna and he reached into his coat pocket and pulled out a blue registration certificate.

Justice O'Brien smiled and led the young man and his bride to the county clerk's office, where the proper documents were secured.

14 I. W. W.'S HELD IN EL PASO STRIKE PLOT

EL PASO, July 9.—Government agents early today arrested fourteen men, members of the I. W. W., who were prowling in the vicinity of the Consolidated Smelting & Refining Company's plant near El Paso.

One of the men arrested, Patrick Carmody, is said to have confessed to the federal agents that the I. W. W.
planned to organize a strike of the 3-000 Mexican employees of the smelter.

A humane, as well as efficient system of caring for stray cats and dogs in Milwaukee is due to the efforts of Miss Lenore Cawker, a millionaire dog catcher. Last year
Miss Cawker's establishment handled
3,000 dogs alone, and the difference between $3,000, the cost of running the department, and her salary, Miss Cawker herself supplies.

KIDDIES WEEK STARTS
IN MOONEY BOMB CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, July 9.—This will be kiddies' week in the trial of Mrs. Rena Mooney.

First will come half a dozen littles who studied music in Mrs.
Mooney's class in the Eiler building.

Ever since she was arrested as a conspirator in the bomb plot the defendant's most loyal supporters have been these youngsters. Today they clattered the corridor of the hall of justice, played tag and romped while awaiting their turn on the stand. In the recesses last week, while they were waiting outside the court room,
they would take the chance to tiptoe into the court and wave to their former teacher.

These children will be alibi and character witnesses, called to prove Mrs. Mooney's contention that she was in the Eiler building at a time that state witnesses placed her near 721 Market street or at the scene of the explosion.

There will be other youngsters, too.
The two children of Edward Nolan, one of the defendants, will take the stand to tell about their daddy and where he was at certain times. The children of Israel Weinberg are also to be called upon to testify.

are expected here Monday. They come from the secretary of the Old Fort Flying Club and on arrival Chief Butler will release them to start on what their owners hope will prove a record flight, back to Fort Wayne.

Miss Leila Ritner, soprano; Miss Lillian Reed, dramatic reader, and Earl Fraser, pianist, gave a highly appreciated program Saturday evening for the boys at the Arcadia training camp.

The three entertainers agreed that the enthusiastic boys made a most inspiring audience. After each number there were encores, and at the end of the program, the performers were saved the embarrassment of "running out" of numbers by the last bugle call for "lights out."

Mrs. A. J. Lawton will speak on the Coast Defense Work and Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler will tell of the plans of the year's work for the army and navy that the W. C. T. U. will take up this year. PLEASANT LUNCHEON

Mrs. William McFadden Announces Engagement Miss Hutoqua Hossler

Mrs. William A. McFadden has been hostess at a delightful announcement luncheon on Saturday afternoon, in honor of Miss Hutoqua Hossler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hossler of this city, the fortunate man being John Clarence Gaylord of Pasadena.

Another honored guest was Miss Marian Harmon, a cousin of Mrs. McFadden, from Williamsport, Pa., who is visiting her.

Mrs. McFadden utilized one large table and two small ones to accommodate her guests, the centerpieces being bouquets of old-fashioned flowers with corsages of the same blossoms. Cute little kewpie nut holders hid the envelopes telling the names of the happy couple and Miss Hossler, who is visiting her.

COTTON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Deaver, Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Martin Celebrate Together

A very jolly anniversary, the third for Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Deaver and Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Martin, who were married within two days of each other, was celebrated on Saturday evening at the Deaver home.

Between the folding doors of the parlors hung a huge wedding bed fashioned of cotton, garlands of daisy chains and snowballs adorning the walls. Large clusters of waxen Schenck daisies added to the pretty scheme.

Games were enjoyed both in and out of doors and cards were also played. The prizes went to Mrs. Chas. Smith and Mr. Deaver and Miss Margaret Hodgkins and R. Rees.

Among the appreciated gifts were a fine sewing machine from Mr. Deaver to his wife and a beautiful hand-painted tea set from Mr. Martin to his wife.

Dainty refreshments of cake and punch were prettily served on small tables.

The guest list included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Le Buck, Mr. and Mrs. Bush; Miss Anna and Vida Liggett, Dorothy, Moyle, Dortha Rasted, Nellie Framboe, Marguerite Hodgkins; Messrs. O. H. Hopkins, C. Hopkins and E. P. Hadwig of San Bernardino.

MANDOLIN WINS EDGAR EASY BERTH AT CAMP

Santa Ana Boy Assigns Drivers of Autos at Linda Vista

Nelson Edgar's mandolin has won him an easy berth at the concentration camp at Linda Vista.

Going there a few weeks ago as a chauffeur with rank of sergeant, he is now one of the "big in-juns" in the auto section of the camp.

He was first assigned as driver of an officers' car and he "fell in" with a bunch of officers, co-operating with them in their various pleasures.

A mandolin squad was formed in the particular group with which Edgar hobnobbed. He had his instrument with him and joined in the musical activities. He had never taken more than two lessons, but he made good. The squad developed into a club of considerable notoriety and was taken by the officers on various Recently while Edgar was passing an evening with a group of his officer friends, one of them asked if there was anyone in the crowd who could operate a typewriter. Edgar answered that he could and he at once was assigned to duty as clerk in the automobile department.

His duty is to assign drivers, check them in and out, and keep a record of the trips they make.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

SUPERVISORAL LINE CHANGES WILL BE MADE

Under New Law District Will Be Road District With One Road Fund

While meeting last week and this week as a board of equalization, supervisors have been discussing the changes that will be necessary in supervisorial lines in order to meet the requirements of a new state law which orders that assessments be made by the county assessor in accordance with road districts and not in accordance with school district boundaries as has hitherto been the custom.

No changes of any great consequence are going to be found necessary. Since Santa Ana is the first district with the city boundaries coinciding with the school district boundaries, the first district will remain as it is. Between the second and fifth districts the Santa Ana river will be the line from First street to the ocean. That is practically the line now. Between the second and third districts, a portion of the Katella section will be put into the second district. Richfield will be transferred from the fourth district to the third. Between the fourth and fifth districts two changes will occur. Instead of Seventeenth street being the line, Santa Clara will be. The old line between Trabuco and Silverado will be returned.

Under the new law road districts as they now are will be done away with. Each supervisorial district will be one road district with but one fund for the entire district.

"What became of the piece of nose?" asked the police judge.

Dalipa pointed significantly first to his mouth and then to his stomach.

HALLUCINATIONS USED IN ARTIST'S BUSINESS

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Although most people consider hallucinations demand immediate attention from a competent specialist, Harwood Elvert, Pasadena portrait painter, turns them into dollars and cents.

"I use them regularly in my business," Elvert declares. "I only have to look carefully at a man for half an hour and any time after that I can bring up a perfect image of him, before my eyes. So thus by using what other people would call a dangerous illusion, I can paint a portrait with only one sitting."

SAY TAX LIMIT LAW MENACES SCHOOLS OF SANTA ANA

Hammond, Andrews, and Mitchell Lead Referendum to Get Rid of Measure

"The tax limit law is a menace to the schools."

In so many words—in fact, in those very words—D. K. Hammond, principal of the Santa Ana High School; R. P. Mitchell, county school superintendent, and F. L. Andrews, secretary of the Santa Ana Board of Education, announced their opinion of the law as passed by the last legislature, approved by the State Tax Commission, and signed by the Governor.

Today Santa Ana school authorities entered actively into the campaign to referendum the law, and it is their purpose to get 3,000 signers in this county to a petition to stop the law from going into effect and to leave it to a vote of the people a year from next fall to determine whether or not it shall ever become a law.

According to Hammond and Andrews, the law will put a stop to a lot of school plans for Santa Ana. They say that if it goes into effect they cannot establish the school for Mexicans that the school board has planned to establish before September; that work upon some additional rooms at the Santa Ana High School cannot go forward, that there will not be enough money to pay teachers that are required to give the courses that the new state laws compel the high school to give, notably physical culture.

In fact, work upon some improvements at the high school has been stopped until it is determined whether or not the law is going to go into effect.

Not as Thought

First reports of the provisions of the law led some here to believe that the tax limit law allowed a tax-fixing body to put on a rate of not over five per cent what it was the year previous. Not so. It puts the limit on the amount of money raised, not upon the tax rate. A school district or a county might get a big raise in assessment, but the law says that the rate shall not raise over five per cent what was raised the year previous.

The only way to raise more than five per cent of the bulk money is to get permission from the State Board of Authorization.

The objection that the schools have is that their tax rates are fixed by the Board of Supervisors, and should the Board of Supervisors want to raise more money than they had last year, there would be no chance for the schools to get any raise. In other words, as the school authorities here understand the law, the law does not give each district consideration as to its own needs, but takes the bulk of all money raised in a county through rates fixed by the Board of Supervisors.

If their view is correct, Santa Ana might want to put on a ten-cent levy, as its board does want to do in order to provide for a school for Mexican children, the Board of Supervisors could say:

"You can't do it, for we are going to take up all of that extra five per cent allowed Orange County this year for a new bridge that we think is necessary. In fact, in order to provide the money the county needs for its purposes, and still keep within the limit set by this law, we will have to make every school in this county run on less money than it had last year."

Are in Earnest
The school authorities here are in earnest in fighting the law. This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Principal Hammond and Secretary Andrews are to meet the presidents of the various parent-teacher associations of the city at the home of Mrs. W. B. Tedford for the purpose of organizing to circulate referendum petitions. Principal Hammond and Secretary Andrews both have a lot of blank petitions, and any person who wants to volunteer to circulate one can get one from either of those men. Each parent-teacher association is expected to take an interest in the matter. Any person wishing to sign can do so at Sam Stein's store.

DECLARE SEAL BEACH BLOCKS COAST'S ROAD

Beach Officials Say Bridge Is Condemned Needlessly—Court Action Likely

Huntington Beach and Sunset Beach residents declare that Seal Beach is playing dog in the manger.

They think it so strong that they are preparing to go into court to prove it and to make Seal Beach quit.

Today a delegation of twenty-five citizens of the two coast cities visited the courthouse. They came to see District Attorney L. A. West and lay before him their grievance, which is considerable and which they propose shall not be allowed to continue.

In brief, their complaint is that Seal Beach has done nothing, worse than nothing, toward opening the Seal Beach end of the new coast boulevard closed for travel. The delegation is satisfied from investigations made that some of the Seal Beach officials are deliberately blocking the opening of the road.

Inside the city limits of Seal Beach is one-eighth of a mile of road that is so sandy that an automobile has a time of it to get by. When Orange County recently finished the boulevard from Huntington Beach through Sunset Beach to the city limits of Seal Beach, it was announced that Seal Beach right away would fix that bad stretch.

It has not done so. There is a bridge across the Anaheim bay neck. Suddenly that bridge has been condemned and is now closed with a pile-driver sitting at its edge.

The Huntington Beach spokesman today declared positively that the bridge was safe for automobiles. City Engineer Spencer of Huntington Beach examined the bridge and says it is safe. Three or four days before it was closed a big tractor was taken across the bridge by one of the Bushards and he did not notice that the bridge was anything but safe.

A committee of Huntington Beach officials waited upon Seal Beach officials and asked them to do something about opening the bridge. They were told that the bridge needs new piles, and the piles have not yet arrived.

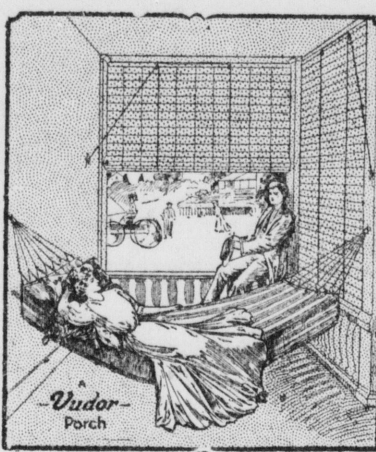

Huntington Beach and Sunset Beach are anxious to have the boulevard opened so that travel can come on down to those places. Whether Seal Beach has deliberately planned it or not, one thing is certain that until Seal Beach gets busy and fixes the road and opens the bridge, no one is going to drive an automobile out of Seal Beach to either Sunset Beach or Huntington Beach.

The district attorney told the delegation that the county could do nothing, though it has spent its money in good faith.

Private parties are planning to bring a mandamus action against Seal Beach.

ROBT. COGBURN PIONEER, IS CALLED BY DEATH

Resided In This City At One Location For the Past Thirty Years

A resident of this city for thirty years, Robert Cogburn, well known pioneer, passed to the Great Beyond yesterday, following an illness of several weeks. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Cogburn, daughter, Mrs. Stephen Ross, and grandsons, Dr. G. C. Ross and Forrest A. Whitson. Funeral services will be held at Smith & Tutill's tomorrow at 2 p. m.

The decedent came here from Flint, Mich., thirty years ago, locating at 202 South Main street, where he lived up to the time of his death. He lived mostly a retired life here, having acquired a competence through operations of a lumber business at Flint before moving to Santa Ana. At one time he served the city as a policeman, that service being rendered shortly after coming here. In recent years he worked at different times for the city and Anaheim as paving inspector. He gained considerable of a reputation throughout Southern California as a paving inspector, and was highly recommended for his efficiency in this line.

Robert Cogburn counted his friends in Santa Ana by the score. He was a genial, whole-hearted fellow and his passing will be regretted by all.

Robert Cogburn was born at New Brunswick, Canada, December 28, 1835, and from there went to Flint, Mich., where he engaged in the lumber business for a number of years.

IN AVOIDING CRASH GARDEN GROVE AUTO HURTS MOTOR RIDERS

OXNARD, July 9.—While returning to their homes in Los Angeles on motorcycles from this place, where they had been working in the beetfields, Howard Johnson and James Smith, former Los Angeles high school athletes, were struck by a Ford, driven by J. S. Williams of Garden Grove. Johnson received a compound fracture of a leg and one of his feet was hurt so badly it had to be amputated. Smith escaped practically unhurt. According to witnesses, it is said that Williams was endeavoring to avoid another car when he crashed into the boys. The accident occurred on the Calabash road, about thirty miles from here.

SACRAMENTO EMPLOYS WOMAN CRIME EXPERT

SACRAMENTO, July 9.—Sacramento has the distinction of being the first city in California, so far as is known, to employ a woman as criminal identification expert.

Mrs. Alice M. Fisher, aged 20, daughter of Max P. Fisher, head of the criminal identification bureau of Sacramento, enjoys this distinction. She will act as her father's assistant.

Mrs. Fisher is skilled in identification work as she has studied the finger print system and other methods used in identifying criminals under the tutelage of her father for the last seven years.

This line of work seems to run in the family as Miss Fisher's great-grandfather was a famous detective in Switzerland and her grandfather was a chief of police in a German city. Miss Fisher hopes to be of much assistance to the Sacramento police in running down criminals.
